The third prerequisite is to strengthen the skill of the executive secretariat, the minister observed. In addition, MFA Bourita stressed that the Kingdom of Morocco continues its commitment to work for the construction of the Sahel-Saharan space, maintaining fraternal relationships with all member countries, based on cooperation, solidarity and respect for their sovereignty e territorial integrity. "It is for this reason that our efforts must tend to bring out our community as a melting pot of our collective efforts, promoting our grouping towards a real regional integration," he insisted further. Mfa Bourita said that this requires four prerequisites, that is to say the restoration of a normal work rhythm of the center government bodies because its role as a lever for regional development depends on its internal dynamism and its ability to Set the challenges of the region, next to Ecowas, the economic community of the States of Central Africa, and the G5-Sahel. Member States do not intervene in the internal affairs of others and abstain from the adoption of measures that hinder the achievement of the objectives of the community. He recalled HM's speech The king in which the sovereign stressed that "Morocco believes in a co-control based on intra-African cooperation and economic complementarity, active solidarity and the integration of resources and efforts". The center is a real miniature of Africa - in its wealth, diversity and challenges, underlined the minister, explaining that this continent has a significant potential to establish itself as a dynamic region, producing added value and capable of share the socio-economic challenges of its members. The Community of the Sahel-Saharan states, called Cen-Sad, was founded in 1998 in a conference held in Libya and frequented by African leaders and heads of state. The five-year plan of "our organization, developed by the secretariat following the extraordinary extraordinary conference The Heads of State and Government held in N'Djamena, 13 April 2019, are examined in favour of a contribution to the achievement of the objectives of CEN-SAD and its security and development strategy (SDS). However, the end of the pandemic crisis and developments in regional, continental and global contexts, "he asked us to maintain constant support for our Organization" and to optimize the role that it can play, he stressed. In the coming years, CEN-SAD's action should be aimed at setting up various institutional structures provided for in the amended CEN-SAD Treaty, including the Permanent Council for Sustainable Development, said the FFA Bourita. "We can only congratulate members of the Secretariat, who are making so many resources," he said, adding that it was necessary to provide reinforcements in terms of competent human resources, skills and means, "if we want a Secretariat that is able to distribute all its efficiency." He called on the Sahel-Saharan Bank to rethink its investment and trade policy, stressing that this strategic institution must accompany the Community's efforts in the fields of development and its relationship with potential investors in this area. We join the good of our peoples and our continent Africa," he concluded. This event constitutes the first present meeting of the Executive Council, since its ordinary session in Khartoum held on March 12, 2014, said, adding that "if COVID-19 pandemic and its recurring outbreaks have unfortunately imposed their constraints on us, they have in no way affected our commitment to CEN-SAD, nor our determination to give a new impetus to its work." The process of approval of laws and treaties in the Egyptian Parliament begins with the approval of the Committee on Constitutional and Legislative Affairs, therefore the committees concerned and finally the plenary session. While the first treaty focused on cooperation between the member states of the CEN-SAD, the revised Treaty - approved by the Member States in Chad on 16 February 2013 - focuses on regional security and sustainable development. The MFA Bourita deplored the fact that "the security problem is raised every time we talk about Sahel", observing that "in the space of a decade, our region has become not only a place of return and redistribution of foreign fighters, but also to Space producing terrorist groups." The Sahel remains, unfortunately, the second most affected region in the world by terrorism, said the minister, claiming that the security challenges in "our sahel-Saharan space are therefore not a figure of word, but a fundamental concern". In this context, he called on Cen-Sad, more than ever, to speed up the operation of his Peace and Security Council, observing that he also benefited from transforming his security services forum into an intelligence committee at the service of peace and security and establishing a general staff of saharic countries to combat terrorism and drug trafficking more effectively. The Kingdom of Morocco proposes the creation of an economic forum of the community of the Saharan States (CEN-SAD), said MFA Bourita during the preparatory meeting for the 21st ordinary session of the CEN-SAD Executive Council. "The kingdom will work closely with the Cen-Sad Center to combat terrorism.
